

THREATENS TEST OF EUGENICS LAW

Steps Taken in Milwaukee to Determine Constitutionality of Measure.

Milwaukee, Wis., January 2.—Steps were taken to-day to bring a test suit to determine the constitutionality of the eugenics law requiring male persons to submit a doctor's certificate before marriage showing a clean bill of health.

The law went into effect yesterday, and Alfred A. Peterson and Hattie J. Peterson, both twenty-nine years old to-day, were the first to seek a marriage license. They were accompanied by an attorney, and when the county clerk refused them a permit, the intended bridegroom became active.

Peterson, with his attorney, began a search for a doctor who would examine him for $3, the price prescribed by law. Milwaukee physicians have agreed that they cannot give the required tests for that amount. They have agreed to give superficial examinations, but the county clerk demands that Wasserman tests also be made. If the doctors continue to refuse to make the tests, Peterson says he will begin a suit to test the constitutionality of the measure.

ONLY THREE FROM STATES

Employees in Philippines Replaced by Promoting Men Already in Service.

Washington, D. C., January 2.—Wide-spread reports that Governor-General Harrison had replaced civil employees in the Philippines with Democrats from the United States led the War Department to issue a statement to-day, formally declaring the new Governor had appointed only three Americans from the States to office. Those he has named are Stephen Bonnell, secretary to the Governor; John Hughes, captain of the Manila police; and Bernard Horstein, collector of customs.

The statement said the Governor had dismissed a number of civil employees for reasons of economy, but that where he found it necessary to replace officials, except in the three instances mentioned, he had done so by promoting men already in the service.

TO DEVELOP AEROPLANE

New and Progressive Policy Inaugurated by Navy Department.

Washington, January 2.—A new and progressive policy for the development of the aeroplane as a naval adjunct was inaugurated to-day by the Navy Department, when Secretary Daniels announced that hereafter air craft would form a large part of the naval force of the United States.

Captain Mark L. Bristol was assigned to have charge of the study and development of this branch of the service. Captain W. L. Chambers, though retired, will continue the work he began in the adaptation of the aeroplane to naval uses in the form of the hydro-aeroplane.

Secretary Daniels has decided to make the flying school, about to be established at Pensacola, a permanent institution. Lieutenant-Commander H. C. Mustin has been assigned to special aeronautical duty on the battleship Mississippi, which will be

HOPES FOR SETTLEMENT

Densmore Thinks Situation in Copper District is Brighter.

Houghton, Mich., January 2.—Peace negotiations in the copper strike situation halted and swayed to-day. After a report had become current of an important communication from union sources early in the day, there was a series of conferences between John B. Densmore, of the Department of Labor, and representatives of the conflicting interests. At the end of them Mr. Densmore said he still had hopes of finding a way out of the district's difficulties, and added that his hopes were higher than twenty-four hours before.

Just what progress the negotiators made was a question to which there was nothing approaching a definite answer.

FIGHT FOR BIG BUDGET

Speaker Clark's Economy Movement Receives Setback.

Washington, January 2.—Speaker Clark's economy movement in the House received a setback to-day, when it became known that committee chairman, in charge of appropriation bills, are making a firm stand against further cutting of these measures.

Legislators familiar with the situation, this afternoon, predicted that the annual congressional budget would be nearly as great or in excess of past Republican budgets.

HOLD ON BUSINESS WORLD

Three Points to This as Result of Unrest in United States.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] London, January 2.—Viscount Bryce, at one time ambassador of Great Britain to the United States, speaking at the opening of the Educational Conference at London University, said:

"It is one of the conspicuous merits of the universities of the United States that they have gone far ahead of us in establishing a hold on the business community. Wherever one travels abroad, in Mexico, South America or the Far East, one finds the heads of firms contemplating that the English youth which comes out to them show less interest in their work than their competitors from the European Continent."

There will be systematic experiments on a large scale with aeroplanes, the secretary said; private designers will be assisted financially in efforts to produce the best form of air craft; the training of the personnel will be taken up, and the question of the purchase of dirigibles soon will be passed upon.

WILSON AND LIND HOLD CONFERENCE ON CRUISER AT SEA

Is Mexican With Lind?

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New Orleans, La., January 2.—A persistent rumor has been in circulation here this afternoon, and evening to the effect that a prominent Mexican, representing the anti-Huerta faction, has accompanied Special Envoy Lind from Vera Cruz on board the scout cruiser Chester, and is the guest of the President.

The report is said to have emanated from good authority, and is accompanied by the statement that Gulfport was chosen as the place for the President's holiday vacation in order to facilitate such a conference.

It is hinted that the Mexican envoy accompanying Mr. Lind has a proposition to lay before President Wilson looking to the ousting of Huerta and the substitution of a constitutional form of government for the present dictatorship, through a combination between representative business men of the Southern section of the republic and the leaders of the revolutionary movement in the Northern States.

Many mysterious circumstances connected with the coming of the Chester to the Gulfport are cited in support of the statement that a prominent Mexican has accompanied Mr. Lind.

That the President should have ventured out to the cruiser's anchorage in a small boat in decidedly rough weather, instead of having the envoy come to him, is regarded as decidedly unusual.

The gunboat Wheeling has also entered into the affair, and is now hovering off the mouth of the Mississippi. A Louisville and Nashville railroad train, with reservations, said to have been taken in the name of the government, was held here for some time beyond its scheduled leaving time to-night. It was intimated by railroad employees that the reservations were for a party of Mexicans.

The unaccountable delay of the Chester in making the trip from Vera Cruz is also cited in support of the statement that Mr. Lind and the President are not the only parties to the mysterious night conference on board the Chester.

EARLE CAUGHT IN NORWAY

Paris, January 2.—Advices were received here that Ferdinand Pinney Earle, the American artist, and a Mrs. Evans had been arrested in Norway on a charge of abducting from a school at La Motte Beuvron, France, last November, Earle's eight-year-old son, Harold. A private detective, who is said to have tracked Earle and Mrs. Evans to Norway, is reported to be on his way back to France with the boy, while the Norwegian authorities are holding Earle and his companion.

FURIOUS GALE SWEEPS COAST

Shipping for Several Days at Mercy of Heavy Storms.

San Francisco, Cal., January 2.—A furious gale that swept the coast to-day further endangered shipping, which for days has been at the mercy of heavy storms.

Except for a few hours yesterday, Northern and Central California have experienced a whole week of rainy weather. The Weather Bureau predicted more rain for to-night and tomorrow. Some of the Santa Clara Valley are isolated, with wires down. Many bridges are covered with water. Traffic of all kinds is demoralized over a wide area of the State.

TO INTRODUCE THREE BILLS

Anti-Trust Program of Progressive Party Becomes Known.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, January 2.—The anti-trust program of the Progressive party to be urged after Congress reconvenes next Monday has been made known by the introduction of three bills—one to create an interstate trade commission to regulate business, with a veto annual income of over $3,000,000; another to prevent unfair competition, and the third differentiating between artificial and natural monopolies, providing means for dealing with each.

This program was endorsed by the legislative committee of the National Progressive party. Its champions in the lower house will be Representative Victor J. Aronson, of New York, and in the upper house, William D. Draper Lewis, dean of the University of California law school, and Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations under Roosevelt. Hearings before the House Judiciary Committee have been arranged.

MOYER SPENDS RESTLESS DAY.

Date When He Will Be Able to Resume Activity Uncertain.

Chicago, January 2.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, passed a restless day in the hospital, where he has been since he was wounded and bruised in the strike when he was expelled from Calumet. The date when the injured labor leader will be able to resume activity is uncertain.

Moyer talked to-day with John Mitchell and Clarence Darrow, but was unable to announce his plans. He said he would endeavor to prepare a statement to-morrow.

$300,000 Fire in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 2.—Fire that originated in the E. C. Langen Cloak Company building to-night destroyed that structure and burned out the W. K. Stewart Book Company's store and the L. S. Ayers & Co.'s stock rooms. The total loss is estimated at about $300,000.

The fire which was in the center of the business district was the most spectacular that has occurred here in years, and for two hours threatened adjoining structures.

Crew Rescued From Schooner.

Pensacola, Fla., January 2.—Catching schooner Priscilla arrived here to-day with the captain and seven members of the crew of the American schooner Glenafon, who were rescued from the waterlogged craft to-day. The schooner, from Mobile to Havana, was encountered by Priscilla 30 miles from this port. She had a cargo of lumber.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, January 2.—Mayor Mitchell will announce no further appointments until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. He said he would proceed slowly, and that he would not need to hurry, and I want to be sure that the best man available has been selected before making my decision.

PUBLIC SENTIMENT

CAUSE OF ACTION

New Haven road amounted to a scandal.

Norris Urges Legislation.

Senator Norris, Nebraska, Republican-Progressive, was even more severe.

No action which may be taken now by the Morgan firm, said he, nor by any others implicated in the wrongs that have been caused by the interlocking directorates of the so-called money trust, should prevent the government from going right along with its investigations. Nothing should interfere with or stop the investigation or prosecution for wrong-doing of any one who has been guilty.

The people who were robbed in the New Haven financing, for instance, will not be benefited by the tacit agreement of, perhaps, the very men who did the robbing, that they will sin no more. They want to know just who was responsible for that robbing, just how it was done, and they are entitled to know, and the government must find out for them.

The money trust investigating committee headed by Morgan Company with having sixty-three directors, thirty-nine companies, having total resources of $10,306,000,000. Referring to the control of railroads by the "house of Morgan," the Pujo committee said: "Such affiliations with competing enterprises are not wholesome; they do not promote competition, but on the contrary tend as a cover and conduit for secret arrangements and undertakings in the restriction of competition through the agency of the banking house thus situated."

Representative Lindbergh, of Minnesota, author of a bill to prohibit interlocking directorates, said to-night: "I doubt if the action of Morgan & Company will have any effect on legislation. It is in line with the evident purpose of big business to try to meet the demands of the people, and is in anticipation of legislation."

One of Chief Points of Attack.

J. Morgan & Company's participation in the control of many corporations and the presence of members of the firm upon the boards of directors of many industrial concerns and powerful financial institutions in New York and elsewhere, were pointed out as the principal points of attack by the so-called money trust investigation.

Several bills now pending, which will serve as a partial ground work for the projected trust legislation, concerning the control of corporations, interlocking control of corporations, Secretary Redfield, of the Department of Commerce, in his annual report, recommended legislation against it.

President Wilson's views upon that phase of the question, according to well-informed officials, were expressed in the recent arrangement by which the American Telephone and Telegraph Company gave up its relations with the Western Union. It is generally understood that the President's views were communicated in a measure to "Big Business" through Attorney-General McReynolds.

Individual members and directors of the Morgan firm and some former members are defendants in pending government dissolution suits. Notable among them are suits against the United States Steel Corporation, the International Harvester Company, and the so-called shipping trust.
